

51 Soap Box Racers Await Sunday Event

The time: Sunday at 2:30 p.m.
Where: Blackburn hill on the Damascus Road.
What: Salem's first annual Soap Box Derby.
Several thousand spectators are expected to line Blackburn Hill tomorrow for the first running of the Salem Soap Box Derby.
Fifty-one Salem and district boys are entered in the race, which will decide who will represent Salem in the national Soap Box Derby in Akron Aug. 10.
A parade originally planned to precede the race, was cancelled because of the unavailability of bands to take part.
Concession stands operated by the Women's Auxiliary of the Salem City Hospital will serve soft drinks, hot dogs, and refreshments.
Spectators will be kept posted on heat winners and derby happenings by a public address system.
Traffic Detoured
Damascus Rd. will be blocked off to traffic from 8 a.m. Sunday to 6 p.m. Persons driving to the race are instructed to go around the police blockade and drive to the top of Blackburn Hill where parking space will be available. Route 62 traffic will be detoured.
Busses will run on their regular routes to the top of the derby track beginning at 1 p.m. The derby committee has urged spectators to use the bus service because of the shortage of parking space near the track.
Inspection of derby cars is being held again today. About 20 cars were inspected yesterday and nine required minor changes before acceptance. The calibre of cars ready for the race is much better than was expected for a first-year race. Wesley Houser, derby director, said.
Excellent speeds should be attained during the race, he added. Every derby contestant and spectator is fully insured. The derby committee has emphasized that safety is one of the key factors in the race, and all spectators are asked to remain off the track at all times.
Toledo Scales Co. of Youngstown has conducted the official weighing, directed by J. P. Litty, division manager of the company.
Prizes Offered
The Salem derby, one of 159 in the nation, will award top prizes of a $100 war bond, a bicycle, a set of tools, a power tool outfit, a fielders glove and baseball, and a basketball and basket.
Each boy will be allowed to keep his official derby headgear and will be given an all-expense paid trip to the national race in Akron.
The Salem race is co-sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and Chevrolet Motor Co. Other Salem civic clubs have taken an active part in planning the derby and in its work.

3 Playgrounds To Be Opened On Wednesday

Hours Are 2 To 4
Five Days A Week;
Cope Is Supervisor

The City Park Commission plans to officially open three playgrounds in Salem, Wednesday afternoon.
The playgrounds will be in operation five days a week, Monday through Friday, from 2 to 4 p. m., the commission announced.
Sites of the playgrounds will be at Centennial Park, Prospect School and Buckeye School, the latter two places subject to approval by the Board of Education.
Reilly School grounds will not be utilized as a playground this year due to the fact that Centennial Park is believed to offer better facilities.
Recreation available at the playgrounds includes tennis, softball, handcraft work, sandboxes, story telling and various other activities.
All children 6 years of age and up are welcome although the activities are designed more for children between six and 13.
City Council earlier this month authorized the transfer of $1,250 from the sidewalks fund to the parks and playground fund to insure a playground program this summer.
The Salem Civic Committee and general public filed protests when the Council indicated earlier this year that funds were not available for playgrounds.
Funds on hand for operation of playgrounds is about half of what it was in 1951, Fred Cope, playground supervisor, stated. As a result, the playlots will be open for a shorter period this year.
Delay in opening the playgrounds has been caused by a lack of trained personnel to supervise the grounds, the Park Commission reported.
Handicraft and tennis instructors are especially needed. Any person with teaching or playground experience who is interested in helping with the program is urged to contact Fred Cope (7691). A nominal salary is paid to each instructor.
The playground project met with considerable success last year as a total attendance of 5,568 was recorded in the eight weeks of operation.
The Park Commission consists of Gail Herron, president, and members Ward Zellers, Fred Smith and Dana Flooding.

Owen Lattimore Not Permitted To Go Overseas

Tip Being Probed That He Planned Trip To Iron Curtain

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department has ordered this country's customs exits barred to Owen Lattimore while it investigates an "official" tip he was arranging a visit behind the Iron Curtain.
Lattimore is the Johns Hopkins University professor who has been a frequent target of accusations by Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis). On the Senate floor, McCarthy has denounced him as an alleged Red spy and "chief architect" of the

Owen Lattimore

Truman administration's Far East policy.
Lattimore's denials of such charges have been vigorous. A few months ago, under days-long questioning by a Senate subcommittee, he said again and again that he never has had any Communist connections. The Institute of Pacific Relations, of which Lattimore was a trustee, was a focal point of the committee's search for possible subversive influences on U.S. Far East policy.
Reported Yesterday
The latest development involving Lattimore was first reported by the Baltimore Sun yesterday morning. It said the State Department had issued orders Lattimore should be halted if he tried to leave the United States.
All day long—until just before office quitting time—the State Department maintained a no-comment attitude. Then it acknowledged that such an order had gone out. The department's statement said in part:
"An allegation was made recently to the department that Mr. Owen Lattimore was making arrangements for a possible visit to the USSR and/or its satellites. The department immediately began an investigation of this allegation.
Can't Leave U. S.
"Pending the results of his investigation, the Customs Bureau was notified that Mr. Lattimore (who was not in possession of a passport duly validated for such travel) should not be permitted to leave the U. S."
Press Officer Michael McDermott declined to say whether the State Department had been told Lattimore was not asked whether he planned a trip behind the Iron Curtain. Such journeys are banned by the department unless specifically authorized.
Asked if Lattimore is being watched, McDermott replied: "Not to my knowledge."
As to where the tip originated, he said it came from an official source, adding:
"The department doesn't take action on fantasies or innuities."
Pressed by newsmen, McDermott said the source was not Congress.
Lattimore, interviewed earlier in the day by reporters in Baltimore, said he was mystified. He said he has not asked the State Department for a passport and has no plans to go abroad.
A Johns Hopkins spokesman said Lattimore told university officials several weeks ago he might get an offer from the University of New Delhi in India to teach there for an academic year. The spokesman said the university agreed to grant him leave if the offer materialized.

Secret Talks Fail To End Steel Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—New attempts to settle the steel strike by direct negotiations between top industry and union officials were made here secretly yesterday, it was reliably learned, but the effort was unsuccessful.
Such negotiations under White House auspices were broken off in Washington in a deadlock on June 9.
Reportedly here for yesterday's talks were Philip Murray, president of the CIO United Steelworkers; Arthur J. Goldberg, the union's general counsel; Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the United States Steel Corp.; C. L. Austin, president of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.; Charles White, president of the Republic Steel Company, and others.
It was understood that the two sides in the wage-contract dispute had separate conferences and were in touch with each other during the day, but it could not be learned for certain whether they actually met together at a negotiation table.

Union Issues Food Orders For Strikers

Workers Can't Get Unemployment Pay, Stores' Sales Drop

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The striking CIO Steelworkers Union is starting to issue food orders for its hungry members and their families.
The latest development in the three-week old strike of 650,000 members of the union headed by Philip Murray came from Buffalo, N. Y.
Joseph P. Molony, a USW director, said hundreds of idle workers have appealed to the union for relief. He said they were referred to New York State welfare agencies but that to tide them over the union issued food orders to members it classed as hardship cases.
To Open Commissary
Molony said a commissary would be opened at union headquarters Monday in an effort to cut household costs for the strikers' families.
Strikers are not entitled to unemployment compensation. But they are entitled to relief aid—just as anyone else. A state of emergency has been proclaimed by Pittsburgh district offices of the Pennsylvania Department of Public Assistance so it can clear relief applications faster.
100,000 Others Furloughed
In addition to the 650,000 striking steelworkers more than 100,000 other workers in allied industries have been furloughed as a direct result of the strike.
In the Pittsburgh district, where some 100,000 steelworkers are striking, grocery sales are falling off. The cashier of a big supermarket said:
"Sure, our business is hit. Whose isn't? I know some of these steelworkers and their wives pretty well. They're still buying but they're shopping for bargains. They're buying cheaper cuts of meat. A lot of them are stocking up on such things as beans and noodles."
Looking for Work
Many of the idle steelworkers—who spent the first few days of the strike painting around the house and working in their gardens—now are looking for odd jobs. A husky young striker, from Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. here, who said he has a wife and young son to support, was found working for a contractor yesterday. He was doing some rough grading around the yard of a newly constructed house. He said:
"I'm getting $1.50 an hour. I guess I'll get in two or three days' work here and then maybe I can find something else to do. I've got payments on my house to meet and a lot of other obligations. I sure wish this strike was settled."

Taft-Like Battle Grows Intense

General Not Making Headway, Ohioan Says

By The Associated Press
The Taft-Eisenhower battle for Republican presidential-nominating votes took on bare-knuckle aspects today, with the general primed for a "rip-snorter" speech and the senator saying his defense is solid.
All indications at Denver were that Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's weekend dash to Texas and Nevada would mark a departure from his carefully polite routine to date.
His chief rival for the GOP presidential nomination, Ohio's Sen. Robert Taft, told a reporter in Washington:
"I don't see how the Eisenhower people can break through to win at this point. They have not made the headway they expected when he returned home to campaign."
Taft Has 467 Votes
With 604 delegate votes needed to nominate at the GOP convention July 7 in Chicago, Taft has 467 to Eisenhower's 392 in The Associated Press tabulation. This tally is based on avowed and conceded first-ballot alignments.
After flying from Denver to his Denison, Tex., birthplace today, Eisenhower goes to Dallas for conferences and a speech. Aides said he will "take off the gloves" in expressing his views over the controversy surrounding Texas' 38-vote contested delegation.
Eisenhower visits the Hoover Dam at Las Vegas, Nev., Sunday for another talk, then returns to Denver Sunday night. This trip looked like an expedition to gain background for answering questions by convention delegates from the West, whose favor the general has courted in conferences at Denver.
Wrangle Termed "Steal"
Various Eisenhower campaigners have called the Texas wrangle an attempted "steal" by Taft forces. The Ohioan's backers retort that

GI Critic Of Clark Demoted To PFC

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP)—A 24-year-old soldier who wrote Gen. Mark Clark that U.N. handling of the Kojima Island prison camp riots was "repugnant and disgraceful" trades his sergeant's stripes for those of a private first class today.
A special court martial which convicted C. Dean Chase of "disrespect to a superior officer" yesterday, also decreed that he must forfeit $75 a month from his pay for the next six months.
Chase, a regular army man from Salt Lake City, Utah, was well satisfied with the verdict.
"Wonderful, wonderful," he beamed. "I won't be writing any letters of this nature again."
Then he raced to telephone his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland L. Chase in Salt Lake City:
"Hello, Mom. It's all over. I'm a private first class now."
Chase had faced a maximum penalty of six months confinement and a bad conduct discharge, which would have deprived him of all veteran's benefits.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States has put Russia on the spot by demanding a U.N.-sponsored inquiry into Soviet germ warfare charges.

Controls, WSB Power Near End

GOP, Southern Dems In Control Of House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has tentatively voted to lift price controls from virtually all consumer goods and drastically reorganize the Wage Stabilization Board.
The ripped and tattered extension of the administration's Defense Production Act faces other sharp changes when it comes up again next Wednesday.
First big vote then will be on a provision requesting President Truman to invoke the Taft-Hartley Law injunction proceedings in the steel strike.
With a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats in control of the legislation, administration leaders concede they have little chance to block adoption of that proposal. Absences have sapped the administration's voting strength.
The Senate wrote a similar request into its version of the extension law.
From the standpoint of the stabilization agencies, the price decontrol amendment hit hardest of all. Sponsored by Rep. Talle (R-Iowa) it was tentatively approved by a 146 to 88 standing vote yesterday.
This provision would require the lifting of price controls on articles or services which (1) have sold below ceiling for three months, or (2) are in adequate or surplus supply.
The amendment defines an article as being in adequate supply when it isn't being rationed or allocated. Nothing is rationed now, and only a few metals are under allocation controls.
The provision for reorganization of the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) and redefinition of its functions to strip it of any power to intervene in labor disputes was passed by a standing vote of 176 to 61.
Under this amendment a majority of the members would be representatives of the public, although labor and management also would have representatives appointed by the President. The public members would be subject to Senate confirmation. The board would formulate and recommend general wage stabilization policies, but would be barred from taking any hand in labor disputes.

Reds Lose 600 In Savage Fight For Key Hill

Heavy Artillery Fire Precedes Push By Chinese Communists

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—U. S. 45th Division infantrymen today hurled back a befeared Chinese regiment in a savage five hour fight for "T-Bone Hill" in Western Korea.
The Reds lost about 600 in killed or wounded in night fighting that closed to hand grenade and bayonet range.
A reinforced Chinese regiment—estimated at from 3,000 to 4,000 men—attacked west of Chorwon under cover of one of the heaviest Communist artillery barrages of the war.
Units Cut Off
For a time, advance U. S. units, despite reinforcements, pulled back in the face of heavy fire. Some units were completely cut off at times.
The bitter five-hour battle ended at dawn with the 45th in firm possession of outposts along T-Bone and adjacent hills.
The Chinese assault ended a three-day lull which followed six days of desperate Red attempts to regain the T-shaped ridge.
A U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer estimated Communist casualties in the new action at 300 killed and more than 300 wounded. This brought Red losses to more than 2,500 in their desperate fight for the key hills around Chorwon.
U.S. Toll Not Told
American casualties were not announced.
A.P. correspondent Milo Farnett reported from the 45th Division that the Communist assault revealed the intensity of last December's "Little Gibraltar" fighting.
U. S. soldiers held their ground against an initial Chinese thrust at the base of T-Bone last night.
Then two Red battalions pushed against two hills to the southwest but were unable to budge the defenders. American reinforcements rushed to T-bone were forced back by heavy Red artillery and mortar fire.
The mauled Chinese units began moving back toward their main positions just before dawn. The 45th was in control of its forward position.
On the East Central Front, the South Korean Sixth Division held fast against a Chinese battalion entrenched southeast of Kumsong, amid sporadic small arms fire.
Elsewhere along the 155-mile front, there was light patrol action.

Ashland Pastor To Preach Here

Presbyterians To Hear Dr. Harold Andrews

Dr. Harold E. Andrews, pastor emeritus of the Ashland Presbyterian Church and interim pastor at the Niles Presbyterian Church while the congregation was with out a pastor, will preach at the Sunday morning worship service in the Salem church.

The Ashland minister has been well-received in previous visits to Salem. Floyd McKee heads the pulp supply committee.

Attending Synodical this week at Wooster was Mrs. J. C. Pottori, president of the Presbyterian Women's association; Mrs. Thomas Mercer, and Miss Grace Ellenberger, director of Christian Education. Miss Mary Jane Bergman, Miss Elinor Currier and Miss Ellenberger are attending the Business and Professional Women's Synodical this weekend at Wooster. This is the first meeting of its kind in the women's work of the church.

First Methodist

Vacation Church School at the Methodist Church has marked up a record of 102 children and workers with perfect attendance. Rosemary Helman and Jane Everett also were among the teachers in the school which concluded Friday.

Youth Division classes under the direction of Russell Hackett have been providing the opening exercises for the Sunday school and this week Josh Crouse and his ninth graders will be in charge. The annual conference of the Methodist Church begins at Lakeside this Tuesday.

A supper for the official board members and their families has been planned for Tuesday, July 1, on the church lawn.

From Greenland's Icy Mountains

A hymn is written while a group of men talk

England's William Carey put aside his cobbler's last, dug out an education, went to India and blazed the trail for Protestant foreign missions. Close on Carey's heels followed America's Adoniram Judson and churchmen on two continents raised their eyes. That's why Sunday, May 30, 1819, was set aside by Protestant Churches in England for emphasis on foreign missions. And that's why a group of men gathered at the vicarage at Wrexham on the Saturday evening preceding that Sunday.

Among those present was Vicar Shipley's 36-year-old son-in-law Reginald Heber. Shipley was proud of Heber and had reason to be. Though born with a silver spoon he was one of the most generous, as well as brilliant, Anglican clergymen in the empire. At Oxford his clean morals were an inspiration to his classmates and he won two prizes for writing poetry. He was so free with his money that, on his visits home, his mother sewed his allowance in the lining of his clothes to keep him from giving it away before he got back to school.

With his education, wealth and background, Reginald Heber could have literally selected his pulpit . . . and he did. He chose a little church at Hode and, for 16 years, preached from the Bible, gave a fortune to the poor and wrote 57 hymns because he wanted to "draw more people to join in the singing."

Dr. Shipley planned a sermon of foreign missions

From Greenland's icy mountains,
From India's coral strand,
Where Africa's sunny fountains
Roll down their golden sand;
From many an ancient river,
From many a palmy plain,
They call us to deliver
Their land from error's chain.

What tho' the spicy breezes
Blow soft o'er Ceylon's isle,
Thigh every prospect pleases,
And only man is vile;
In vain with lavish kindness
The gifts of God are strewed
The heathen in his blindness
Bows down to wood and stone.

Distributed by Illustrated Features Syndicate, Birmingham, Ala.

but he could find no suitable hymn, so he turned to Heber and asked him to write one. Retiring to a corner of the room, Reginald Heber wrote while the men talked. He had never seen the land of Carey and Judson but after he had written three verses Dr. Shipley said he had a fine missionary hymn. But Heber added a fourth verse to "make the sense complete." The next day Dr. Shipley's congregation sang about India's coral strands to music of a secular song called "Twice When the Seas Were Raging."

The following February, over in Savannah, Ga., Miss Mary Howard read Reginald Heber's poem in "The Christian Observer." She wanted to sing it at her church but could find no tune suitable for the metre. Then she thought of a 28-year-old clerk at the bank who directed choirs and wrote music on the side. Lowell Mason read the poem and wrote a tune for it while Miss Howard waited.

Three years later Bishop Reginald Heber was sent to India where there are no "coral strands." In charge of foreign missions in three countries, he worked himself to death and died on the job at 43. Lowell Mason went to Boston and spent 45 years writing the sweetest music this side of heaven. But one of his best tunes was one of his first . . . the tune he composed in half an hour for this poem Reginald Heber wrote in the corner of a living room one Saturday night while a group of men talked about foreign missions.

Shall we, whose souls are lighted
With wisdom from on high,
Shall we to men benighted
The lamp of life deny?
Salvation! O salvation!
The joyful sound proclaim,
Till earth's remotest corners
Have learned Messiah's name.

Waft, waft, ye winds, His story,
And you, ye waters, roll,
Till, like a sea of glory,
It spreads from pole to pole;
Till o'er our ransomed nation
The Lamb for sinners slain,
Redeemer, King, Creator,
In bliss returns to reign!

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Conquer Worry

I know a man who has a light in his face and a glow in his eyes. He looks as though he had suddenly met God on the street and is filled with the excitement of that tremendous experience. He is a healthy, strong, vital man in his late sixties.

When I first met him, he was about fifty-six. He came to see me one day with a problem. "I don't know what's the matter with me," he said, "but every time I make a decision, I keep worrying that it's wrong. I'm filled with fear. I see men all around me having heart attacks, getting ulcers, living sick lives. Frankly, I'm scared."

"What you need," I told him, "is to put your life in the hands of God."

"I'm a practical man," he answered. "How can I do that? What are God's hands? Where do I find them?"

I gave him some suggestions: "When you wake in the morning, don't get out of bed right away. Just lie there. Relax and get yourself gradually adjusted to the day. Imagine that you're resting in the arms of God just as, when you were a child, you rested in the arms of your mother."

"TALK TO THE LORD. Say to him: 'Now, Lord, I'm going to get up and go to my office. You're going with me and will stay with me all day. You'll be right alongside me when I make any decision, giving me the benefit of your counsel. And I know any decision you help me in will turn out all right.'"

"Then," I continued, "get up and eat a hearty breakfast. When you go to your office pull up an extra chair at your desk and don't let anyone else use it. Keep it as God's chair and think of Him sitting there with you."

At this point my caller grinned and said it all sounded a bit too simple.

"You must be simple," I insisted. "At noon go out and get a good lunch and then, if you have a couch in your office, come back and lie down on it. If you haven't a couch, rest your head on the desk or relax in your chair. Talk to the Lord again. Say: 'Lord, we had a wonderful morning. We made some decisions. You helped me make them and I know that they'll be right. I feel good because You're with me and You're going to stay with me.'"

"When you get home at night, try to go to bed early. Get your room filled with fresh air and hop into bed. Breathe deeply at least six times, breathing your worries out and breathing God's peace in."

"What about my prayers," he asked. "I can't say them in bed."

"Kneeling doesn't seem to have helped you," I reminded him, although I like to kneel to pray. "The Lord doesn't care what position you're in when you pray. So when you're in bed, say, 'Lord, You were with me all day long and everything came out all right because of You.' Then turn out the light and say, 'He giveth His beloved sleep,' and go to sleep."

HE TOOK MY ADVICE and I firmly believe it has made him the healthy person he is today. For he conquered worry, just as you can. If you will fill your mind with faith and rest your problems in the hands of God in the manner I have described, you will conquer any difficulty on this earth.

As always, the Bible says it best, anticipating the findings of our modern psychiatrists and psychologists by hundreds of years: "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind."

Sorrows, as storms, bring down the clouds close to the earth; sorrows bring heaven down close; and they are instruments of cleansing and purifying.—Beecher.

What's the Best Meal of the Day?

Some people say lunch is their best meal; others favor the evening meal, but the folks who dine with us at breakfast time say that this is the best meal of the day for them. We go to extra lengths to give them a wide variety of choice breakfast dishes—ham, bacon, sausage, scrapple and potatoes as they want them, plus, of course, their favorite beverage. The coffee here is different and BETTER.

Delegate Chosen For Girls State

Fairfield Centralized Alumni Hold Reunion

COLUMBIANA — Miss Janet Reinehr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reinehr of 48 Woodland Ave., left today for Columbus to spend next week in attendance at Buckeye Girls' State in Capital University. Miss Reinehr, who will be a senior in Columbiana High School next term, is the delegate chosen by Firestone American Legion Post Auxiliary. Miss Shirley Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wells of 134 West St. was the alternate.

With the approval of the high school superintendent and principal, the delegate and alternate were chosen by the auxiliary for their scholastic standing, leadership and civic-mindedness. Miss Reinehr is an apprentice pharmacist in the Churchfield Pharmacy and plans to take a course in pharmacy at Ohio Northern University at Ada after her graduation from high school next year. Miss Thelma Anderson, East Palestine delegate, will accompany Miss Reinehr to Columbus, and after the conclusion of the girls' state sessions, they will visit Miami University and Ohio Wesleyan University.

CONNIE GRIFFIN, leader of Group B, Troop 1, Girl Scouts, is spending six weeks as a supervisor at Y.M.C.A. Camp Fitch.

James Stratton of Findlay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Stratton east of town on New Springfield Rd., and Miss Eleanor Koons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmert Koons of Dayton, will be married in open church in College Church of God, Findlay, at 6:30 p. m. June 28.

The mayor and police department call attention to the fact that a state law prohibits setting off fireworks or exploding firecrackers. Violations have been reported in some parts of town. State authorities announce that field inspectors will enforce the law, which provides fines of $25 to $500.

The Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. has leased of Ralph Lower of Columbiana, a cousin of the late Harvey S. Firestone, the Lower farm of 154 acres bordering Pine Lake, northeast of town, which will be used as a development department. The buildings are undergoing remodeling for the testing of tires and for other experimental work.

JAMES KNARR, Columbiana contractor, has begun work on finishing the back stage in the auditorium of the high school building, relaying the concrete floor at the east entrance of the building, and repairing concrete curbing at some points on the premises.

Columbiana County W.C.T.U. will present a program in connection with its annual treat for the residents at the Columbiana County Home at 2 p. m. Sunday. Calcutta branch of the Union will provide the treat this year.

Columbiana and Salem teams of the Columbiana County American Legion Junior Baseball league will play at Firestone Park at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Fairfield Centralized High School Alumni Association will have its annual reunion at Fairfield School at 8:30 p. m. today. Entertainment, following the business meeting, will include round and square dancing. Selection of an alumni king and queen will be a feature of the dancing. A committee has been appointed to take care of children regardless of age. Refreshments will be served.

Officers for the ensuing 12 months will be installed by the Columbiana Business & Professional Women's Club at its June meeting in Grace Evangelical and Reformed church Tuesday evening, with dinner at 6:30. Miss Grace Perry of Akron, district director, will be a special guest.

Name 3 Parishes

YOUNGSTOWN, O. — Canton will have two new Roman Catholic parishes and New Middletown, Mahoning County, Another Coadjutor Bishop Emmet M. Walsh announced Rev. Gottlieb J. Pawlewicz, assistant at Immaculate Conception parish in Ravenna, will head the church in New Middletown. Rev. Ferdinand Hartman and Rev. Paul F. Marceau will be in charge of the Canton parishes, on Wise Road and in the Edgfield section, respectively.

Leetonia

Legion Women Hold Officer Installation

LEETONIA—Mrs. Kathryn Patterson was the installing officer when the Ladies Auxiliary of Joe Williams Post, No. 131, American Legion installed officers at the Legion Headquarters Wednesday evening. Mrs. Marion Lodge was installed as president succeeding Mrs. Mary Daisley who has served for the past year.

Mrs. Pasty Bland was installed as first vice president; Mrs. Mary Tortora, second vice president; Mrs. Laura Beilhart, secretary; Mrs. Nanette Gongaware, treasurer; Mrs. June Warner, historian; Mrs. Mayme Speedy, chaplain; Mrs. Ruth Grappy, pianist.

Mrs. Mary Francis is chairman of the child welfare committee; Mrs. Nelle Morris, rehabilitation; Mrs. Grappy Americanism; Mrs. Hazel Oehle, publicity; Miss Mimi Falzetta, community service; Mrs. Eva June Gasser, Pan American; Mrs. Daisley, legislative; Sue Jeswald, national security; Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Besie McClun, Poppy Day. Mrs. Rosa Cox is Sergeant at Arms and Mrs. Fay Calvin and Martha Beilhart, color bearers.

Mrs. Lodge and Mrs. Beilhart were named delegates to the 32nd annual department convention at Columbus, Aug. 8, 9 and 10. Amelia Falzetta and Mrs. Oehle were named alternates. The next meeting will be a social meeting on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Patterson July 16.

NICHOLAS G. CHRONIAK, supervisor of music at Leetonia High School, has tendered his resignation to the Board of Education to accept a position at Southern Idaho School. The summer schedule of practices for the band are scheduled to begin Monday, June 23. A new music instructor is expected to be named in time to take over the practice on June 30.

Kenneth Mathey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mathey, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Timberlake at Fredericksburg, Va.

Mrs. Devere F. Grappy is visiting her father, G. B. DeWitt, at Kenton.

GAMBLING CRACKDOWN
LORAIN, O. — Police Chief Paul Cleaver has named Police Lieut. Frank Pawlak to head a drive on gambling here. This move followed a complaint from Mayor John C. Jaworski that he did not like having 31 holders of federal wagering tax stamps in this city.

In the language of flowers

Of course flowers themselves don't really talk, but a flower or combination of them does carry certain meanings. Just as daisies imply innocence, and pansies signify thought, so the waterlily indicates purity of heart.

Pure, lovely, and fragrant, the waterlily floats gently on the water's surface. Yet its roots plunge deep into rich soil beneath it, and it thrives only if it is fed well and constantly.

In return it gives to us not only its exotic fragrance and beauty, but food—for nestled among its stamens is a veritable treasure of small sacks of nectar sought eagerly by the bees.

Your own spiritual life is like this waterlily. Its roots must sink deep and be nourished frequently by worship in church. (That's why each seventh day was set aside for rest and worship.)

Then, like this delicate blossom, your life will be a thing of value and beauty to be shared with others.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Peace In Europe

By DAVID LAWRENCE

It's Dependent On Strength of Democracies

What the bombs destroyed—the buildings and homes—is slowly but surely being replaced in Western Europe by new structures better than the old ones. But what isn't being replaced is the morale of the people. Recovery is slow, while disillusionment and loss of faith keep the populace in most of the free countries in a state of stunned fear.

Fear of another war influences every thought in government and keeps the people worried and anxious. Pacifism never had more adherents than it has today in Europe and, no matter how bold the phrases of government leaders in the parliaments of Europe, they know in their hearts that their opponents can make political capital any day by appealing to sentiments of peace that amount virtually to pacifism.

Time and the growth of new generations to military age may change all this, but it cannot be denied that conscription is unpopular and that rearmament against any potential enemy is viewed with alarm.

PARALLEL With this attitude toward defensive armies is another residue of the war—a loss of faith in businessmen and a tendency to look with suspicion on them as selfish interests which are some countries backed dictators and stupidly helped to bring on wars.

Businessmen in all the free countries are under a heavier load of restriction than any American can imagine. But many of the businessmen are not forward-looking and have given the socialists plenty of ammunition through their backwardness on the subject of wages and working conditions. Profits at times in the past have gone to fantastic heights as wages have been kept low. Taxation in Britain is high for business, but it is not high enough in other countries.

Curiously enough, the European businessman is not a believer in free enterprise, though he thinks he is. If you talk with him about competition, he says it is ruinous. Instinctively the European businessman favors monopolies and cartels. It is ingrained in his philosophy of operation, and that is one of the reasons why the socialists look so cynically on "free enterprise" as a thing of the past.

That's why they want the "state" to take over the monopolies and run them in the "public interest." But the "state" is just a bunch of inexperienced men with political rather than business background, and that's no solution either.

The trade unions in Europe are in worse condition than the businesses. The quality of the leadership in Great Britain is high, but in France and Italy and Germany it is very poor. Too often the unions are pawns in a political game played by Communists as well as socialists.

MOST VITAL TO the maintenance of peace is the establishment of economic stability. Everybody concedes that the seeds of war are sown in unstable economic conditions. But stability is a difficult equilibrium to attain when selfishness can be organized into rival and conflicting groups.

Selfishness isn't confined to the economic groups, either. It is strong in the very groups of politicians who profess to be the greatest champions of the people's interests. Thus, it is sometimes difficult to tell where love of party and affection for its own ideology ends and love of country begins. Too many times the socialists in Europe give the impression that reform is more important to them than recovery and that ideology is more important than national safety.

Europe is a frightening swirl of political and economic currents. It's not surprising to find this after two world wars of devastating proportions. The wonder is that there has been as much recovery and reconstruction as appears on the surface today. It is not a situation, however, over which America need become discouraged.

It is important, of course, to paint the true picture so that the nature of the job can be understood—so that impatience will not lead to abandonment of the very policies of moral and material support which the United States alone is capable of giving to a distraught Europe. As between high taxes in America, less profits and other sacrifices of a material nature, and another world war, it can hardly be doubted that the vast majority of the American people would choose when the alternatives are fully explained to them.

BUT AN OBJECTIVE view of Europe and its problems, so necessary to an understanding of what policies are desirable for the United States to pursue, cannot be projected into the American political situation today.

Most Europeans are resigned to the fact that only after the American presidential elections are over and a new president has been chosen can the physical power and moral force of the United States be channeled into the European problem in a renewed effort to maintain the peace of the European continent—and that means, of course, peace or war for the American people, too.

Peace in Europe doesn't depend solely on Stalin's misbehavior. It depends more on the rapidity with which the democracies can recover their own economic strength, restore their own morale as individual nations, and, above all, rebuild faith and confidence in themselves.

Oil In The Dictionary

By TRUMAN TWILL

The remarkable ruling by the government that an amateur who writes a book and cleans up with a best seller should not be taxed at the same rate as a professional writer has put the professionals into an uproar.

This zany precedent was set in the case of Kathleen Winsor's "Forever Amber," which the government contends was written for Miss Winsor's amusement and whose proceeds, therefore, are not earned income but a capital gain, like striking oil. This entitled the author to a tax rebate of some $26,000, which makes Miss Winsor's amusement palpable and darned profitable.

But what irks the professionals who put down words for a living is the fantastic notion that it could be fun to put down enough words to constitute a novel, even an amusing novel. To the professional, that makes as much sense as to say that shoveling 1,000 tons of coal could be construed as recreation.

The first thing learned by anyone who undertakes to put oleo on the table and shoes on the children with words is that writing is a job. Some writers work less hard than others, but no writer gets by with no work at all. Those who wade into the welter of words with the illusion that it is going to be an endless romp among the syllables soon knows better.

All professional writers know better. If there is one thing more nearly calculated than any other to make their ulcers twitch it is the bland statement they hear so often, that "I could write if I had the time." The implication here is that there is no such thing as an occupational everybody learns to write in school—anybody could make his living at it—if he could spare the time.

By the same reasoning, everybody could be a professional singer, a professional accountant, geographer, physiologist, or scientist. What writers know that non-writers never find out is that even the most routine handling of the written language is work and that extraordinary skill entails possession of one of the rarest of all talents—the talent to conceive ideas and to convey them so they can be comprehended.

The talent might be likened to sculpture, or painting. Any goof can sculpt and daub, but if a generation of human beings turns out half a dozen who can do it to some lasting effect those few are regarded with more respect than the millions who toil more or less successfully in the manufacture of widgets and the purveying of services.

If the government wanted to give the writer of "Forever Amber" a break on her income tax, it could have found a more plausible excuse than to assume that she was having a romp at the time and the book happened to take publishable form. It doesn't happen that way. There is still no balm in Gilead for the thousands who think they could come up with a best-seller—if they had the time.

They also would need an idea, a great deal of preparation and a few gallons of perspiration just to make the attempt, which then probably would turn out to be a dud if they ever finished it.

IDEAL GRANCES

"All our new graduates are starting at salaries bigger than we ever got, Professor—I guess that makes us pretty successful teachers, eh?"

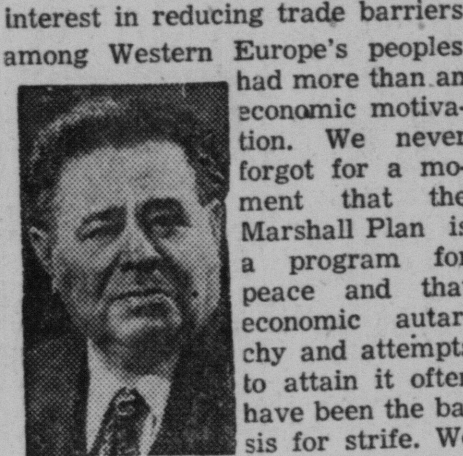

"F-t-friend or F-t-foe?"

Paul Hoffman's Philosophy

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

This was written by Paul Hoffman, head of the Ford Foundation: "From the outset, of course, our interest in reducing trade barriers among Western Europe's peoples had more than an economic motivation. We never forgot for a moment that the Marshall Plan is a program for peace and that economic autarchy and attempts to attain it often have been the basis for strife. We believed, for example, that Hitler might never have had the final impetus to start World War II if it had not been for the self-sufficiency fence he threw around Germany."

There is no evidence either in history or economics that a word of this is correct. Germany, for instance, produces no oil, no copper, and inadequate supplies of steel. There was not an oil well in the Germany which Hitler controlled when he made war; all his plans were based on a mechanized war, aircraft, tanks, guns on motor-driven chassis.

Charles Callan Tansill, professor of American diplomatic history, a noted authority on the subject, has recently completed five years of research in original documents in the files of the State Department and elsewhere. He wrote a book, "Back Door To War," which will for long be a source book on the origin of World War II. It is a prolonged documentation of the war in which every factor that produced two wars from 1914 to 1941 is analyzed. There is not one indication that autarchy was a factor.

THE DIFFICULTY with Mr. Hoffman's generalization is, of course, that he wanted to write a short, speedy book, to convey a basic idea in which he believes. It is like crowding a thousand years of history into this 700-word column. Naturally, there is not enough room for detail, for explanations. Yet, when a man of Paul Hoffman's stature attempts to jam an argument on so serious a subject as he deals with in his book, "Peace Can Be Won," he leads to false conclusions. Hoffman, for instance, says: "Speaking personally, I am pinning particular hope for the downfall of the Kremlin on the will of peoples to rule themselves..."

Why should we assume that Russian people, who have accepted autocracy and despotism for 1,000 years, would suddenly become concerned with problems of liberty? What has this generation of Russians learned about liberty? Even such revolutions as 1905 and 1917 were organized principally by Western-educated persons, many of whom originated among the non-Russian races of that vast empire. Stalin, himself, is not a Russian.

I make this point because oversimplified assumption, like those in Paul Hoffman's book, tend to mislead our people. We have an enemy and we want peace, but I do not think that Hoffman's answer is the answer. He wrote: "...The answer is universal military training. Here is how it would work. At the age of about eighteen all male Americans, before they have assumed family obligations, will go into armed-force training establishments for a two-year hitch. They will be given good care, food and clothing, and enough pay for incidental expenses, perhaps a dollar a day."

Some people, like the writer of today's first letter, can certainly get themselves into a fine mess. Q—My doctor is treating me for an ailment and allows me one tablet of phenobarbital per day.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

The Doctor Answers

Some people, like the writer of today's first letter, can certainly get themselves into a fine mess. Q—My doctor is treating me for an ailment and allows me one tablet of phenobarbital per day.

A—You should stop taking phenobarbital at once and tell your doctor about it. Somebody has no business letting you have access to this additional quantity of drug.

Q—I am 68 years old, but was operated on three years ago for prostate trouble. I should like to know if it is all right to eat a dozen eggs a week. I have often heard that too many eggs are bad for the heart and kidneys. —H. L.

A—It seems unlikely that the eggs would be of any harm merely because you had a prostate operation several years ago. Perhaps however, as many as a dozen eggs a week is a little high.

Q—My son had a physical examination some time ago and the doctors found sugar in his urine, but when he drinks a lot of water and eats mostly vegetables, this doesn't show up. Do you think he has diabetes? —Mrs. E. D. F.

A—Quite likely he has a mild diabetes, but his blood should be tested for sugar as well as his urine.

Q—I have been suffering from a condition known as porphyria. Is there a cure or any kind of treatment for it? J. H.

A—This is a rather rare condition which is believed to be a constitutional or inborn fault. It is often associated with sensitivity to light and a person who is so sensitive should be protected from too bright light. Removal of the spleen is sometimes of value. A number of treatments have been tried, but a complete cure is rather unlikely.

You're only young once, and if you work it right, once is enough. —Comedian Joe E. Lewis.

Honorary Degrees for 1952

Butternut, Oswald H.—A high official of radio and video, you were handed another one of those codes to limit any programs blue-printing crime in a way to tempt the young and easily influenced. You threw it from the 32nd story window with the simple statement, "I have kids of my own. This sort of thing has gone far enough. Let's draw up an honest code and execute it like honest men." We pronounced you an extraordinary and unique American. Have the degree with the roses attached and stay for lunch!

Shrewsbury, Peter H.—A public servant in a position to control expenditure and save a community from bankruptcy, you stuck to old-fashioned arithmetic, considered the taxpayer's interests and cut the budget to the bone, saying, "It is cockeyed to spend what we ain't got for what we don't need." (Would you rather have an honorary degree or a supply of strawberry shortcake for two years?)

Dooplesnoff, Alfred—You own an automobile, and, despite the fact you live almost a half mile from the office, you walk to work rather than add unnecessarily to the traffic congestion. Alfred, you are the Man of the Year! How did Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Columbia and all those other colleges pass you by?

Snubbles, Luke A.—An actor of position and prestige on the legitimate stage, associated most of your life with dramatic roles of great dignity, you did not once during the year appear on a knock-about-comedy viedo program and take a bucket of water in the face for a laugh and $500. We give you a choice of any degree in the house. And have a cigarette.

Scuppers, Hudson W.—A building contractor, needing the money and anxious to get ahead in life, you nevertheless drew the line at turning out a chicken coop, dove-cote, dog-house or Chic Sales and selling it to a war veteran as a dream house. Furthermore, we have proof of a case where you were chased off the property of a get-rich-quick promoter who tried to tell you that a leaky roof was okay and that one nail to a shingle was plenty. An honorary degree is not enough.

Potter, Simsby T.—Although politically influential and in a position to make easy money, you haven't obtained a dime from any government, city, state or national, through dishonest claims, fraudulent deals, hidden partners, etc. You even refused to participate in a scheme to get it through the RFC. Take three of our large-sized degrees and have a cocktail!

Shudda Haddin missed "Hushaby Baby" in the famous Gazelle Stakes. . . . "All the way out on the train I can't do no handicappin' on account of a woman in the seat behind me has two squallin' kids in her lap, and I don't get no hunch!" he groans. . . . Mike Todd, who blew into New York a little over a decade ago to run a couple of midway features in Flushing Meadows, and became a sensational Broadway producer, plans some high jinks for the pre-view and opening of his big Jones Beach outdoor spectacle. . . . How about renaming it "Top Bonanza"? . . . Or, even better, "Todd Bonanza"? . . . Eddie Vane of Philadelphia who won the Eastern Scholarship Golf Tourney at Yale is the son of Glenn Collett, famous golf golfer. . . . General MacArthur's pitch at Chicago will not be the fadeaway ball. . . . Julie Boros, conquerer of Ben Hogan, is a Fairfield, Conn., kid who came up the hard way, caddyng around the Bridgeport area. . . . Big Jim Petrillo has won his demand that both conventions hire 50-piece bands. . . . He holds that both events fall somewhere between circuses and carnivals. . . . President Rhee of South Korea acts like the drowning man who, pulled into the lifeboat, ordered the life-guard out.

VANISHING AMERICANISMS

"I'll take a ten-cent cake of ice."

"That dog has been getting too much meat."

Shebanek-Ursu Nuptials Held In South Euclid This Morning

A number of Salem people are in South Euclid today attending the wedding of Miss Clara Mae Shebanek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Shebanek of South

Euclid and Theodore Ursu Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ursu Sr. of Jennings Ave.

Rings and vows were exchanged by the couple at 11:30 this morning in St. Margaret Mary Church in South Euclid. Rev. Henry J. Hofer was officiating clergyman. Pre-nuptial melodies were played on the organ and the traditional wedding marches heralded the bride as she was escorted to the altar by her father.

Attractively Dressed

The bride was attractive in her gown of embroidered starch chiffon. The floor-length skirt was emphasized with a hoop and the bodice was fitted. Her veil was fingertip length. Stephanotis encircled the white orchid in her bouquet.

Miss Marian Shebanek, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. With her gown of blue nylon tulle over blue taffeta she carried painted daisies. Yellow nylon tulle over blue taffeta fashioned the gown of Miss Virginia Kostelec, bridesmaid. Her flowers were blue painted daisies.

Flower girl was Miss Janet Grooteged, cousin of the bride. Pink organza was used for her dress.

Brother Is Best Man

John Ursu of Salem was best man for his brother. Ushers were John Shebanek Jr., and George Ursu, brothers of the couple.

Both mothers were gowned in lace. Mrs. Shebanek in pink and Mrs. Ursu in beige.

Immediately following the wedding, a dinner for the bridal party and families of the bride and groom took place in the Richmond Country Club, Richmond Heights.

The bride attended Kent State University and is employed as secretary at Addressograph-Multi-graph Corp. in Euclid. Mr. Ursu graduated from Salem High School and the Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland. At present he is working toward his masters degree at Case. He is employed as an engineer at the Willard Storage Battery Co., in Cleveland. Mrs. Ursu is a member of the Zeta Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Another picturesque pre-nuptial affair took place Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert B. Kernohan on S. Lincoln. The luncheon table was a symphony in blue and white. The cloth matched the blue and white of delphiniums and pompons arranged in a silver bowl.

Miss Wilson's bridesmaids made up most of the guest list and their places at the tables were marked with name cards affixed to tiny slippers.

Entertaining for all the members of the bridal party and a few friends were Mrs. Matthew H. Mawhinney and her daughter, Florence, who is one of Miss Wilson's bridesmaids. This party, a delightful luncheon affair, was Wednesday at the Mawhinney home on S. Lincoln Ave.

Thursday's party in the exciting round was held in Lisbon at the home of Mrs. William F. Wright, who was assisted by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wright of Salem.

SCHOOL REUNION PLANNED

The 25th annual McCann's School Reunion will take place Sunday at Butler Grange hall. A picnic dinner will be held at noon. Ernest Woolf is president and Betty Vogelhuber is secretary.

Emmanuel Girls Choir Has Coverdish Dinner

A coverdish dinner and barbecue were enjoyed by 18 members of the Emanuel Lutheran Girls Choir at Centennial Park Thursday evening. The picnic preceded choir practice which was held at the church.

President Mrs. Gilbert Timm and leader of the choir, Mrs. W. J. Seeman, arranged for the affair.

Masonic Group Holds Officer Installation

Officers were elected and installed when members of the Royal Arch Masons, Salem Chapter No. 94, met at the Masonic Temple Thursday evening.

Three past high priests installed the officers: Myron Kelly acted as Grand High Priest, Earl Lang, acted as Grand Marshal, and Edward Goodballet, as Grand Chaplain.

Installing the secretary and treasurer was Garrett Trostel, Grand High Priest of Grand Chapter of Ohio of New Carlisle.

Eric Nyberg is High Priest; DeForest Lewis, King; Elmer Anderson, Scribe; Orson Bowman, Captain of the Host; Warren Hixenbaugh, Royal Arch Captain; Myron Kelly, secretary; Ray Stockton, treasurer.

Curtis Ward, Third Veil; Alex Ferko, Second Veil; John Borland, First Veil; Donald Combs, guard; Max Kropat, senior steward; Hugh Gibson, junior steward; Charles Berg, trustee; Harry Hixenbaugh, representative on Temple Board.

Outgoing High Priest Charles Berg was presented a Past High Priest's apron by the officers.

Grand Secretary Henry Gruen of East Liverpool, District Inspector Earl Greenawall, District Inspector from Grand Council of Ohio Herbert Martin, and Grand High Priest Trostel were guests.

The chapter will meet again Thursday, July 17 at the Temple.

Baptist Bible School Presents Program

Mrs. Al Kitzman made the award of certificates and presented special awards when youngsters in the Daily Vacation Bible School of the Baptist Church presented their closing exercises at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the church.

Leader was Norma Kitzman. Rev. R. J. Hunter gave the invocation, followed by scripture verses by the members of the primary and junior departments. Gloria Rowlands was accompanist when the juniors, directed by Mrs. Elwood Hammell, led the rhythm band.

Musical readings were given by Louise Oswald ("I Gave Away the Baby") and by Gloria Grace ("Geography"). Mrs. W. M. Bennett was accompanist.

The whole school participated in the group singing of "O. Be Careful," "I'll Be a Sunbeam," "I Have the Joy, Joy, Joy" and others. In charge of nursery and beginners departments were Mrs. Robert Hammell, Mrs. Raymond Hoffman and Mrs. Gail Hutchison, assisted by Mrs. Harry Webb, Ann Livingston, Mrs. John Volio, Barbara Erath and Mrs. Don Hammell.

Primary workers were Mrs. Irene Falls, Mrs. Ira Plummer, Mrs. Bennett, Medith Morningstar, Marie Wilson, Jean Bennett and junior: Mrs. Ray Hunter, Mrs. Kitzman, Mrs. Vincent Horning, Mrs. James Roessler, Mrs. William Cameron, Loretta Conrad, Joan Frank and Beulah Casto.

Phillips Church Class Enjoys Games, Luncheon

An informal evening of games and a luncheon was enjoyed when 35 members of the Loyal Sons and Daughters Class of Phillips Christian Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Vincent on Salem-Leetonia Rd. Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Callahan were co-hosts.

Conducting the business of the meeting was Orrin Weaver. Mrs. Ralph Huston gave a prayer. Devotions were led by Mrs. Harold Astory.

A picnic at Centennial Park will be held Friday, July 18. Complimenting arrangements will be Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Huston and Mrs. Juanita Swartz.

Patrolman And Mrs. Rogers Return From Honeymoon Trip

State Patrolman and Mrs. James H. Rogers have returned from their honeymoon and are residing at 623 E. Third St. Elaine Louise Homan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Engeter of Salem and the patrolman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rogers of Steubenville, were married at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, June 15.

The single ring ceremony took place in a flower-banked setting in the Engeter home.

Rev. John Bauman performed the ceremony witnessed by friends and relatives of the couple.

Attractively Dressed

The bride, given in marriage by father, was gowned in a ballerina length gown of pink net and lace. The lace bodice was styled with a sweetheart neckline and the bolero she wore had three-quarter length sleeves with ruffle, which matched the ruffle at the neckline. The top tier of her skirt was accented pleated.

She wore short pink nylon gloves and pearls, which were the gift of the groom. Her bouquet of stephanotis was centered with gardenias and tied with white shower ribbon.

Mrs. Martha Krause, a cousin of the bride, was her matron of honor. Her gown of blue lace was fashioned with a long-sleeved jacket, fitted and buttoned to the waist. Her headband was pleated of blue net and her colonial bouquet of mixed flowers was held together with blue ribbon. The bride gave her the rhinestone earrings she wore.

Dr. Robert A. Rogers of Wilmington, Del., was best man for his brother. The groom presented a gift to the best man and received a gift from his bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Engeter wore aqua linen with white accessories. Mrs. Rogers chose a black sheer frock.

Both mothers had corsages of white carnations.

75 Attend Reception

The newlyweds greeted more than 75 friends and relatives in the Engeter home. Among the guests were Dr. John Rogers of Washington, D. C., and his family; Capt. and Mrs. Marshall Perry and their family from Spokane, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, the parents of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Becker of North Canton. Mrs. Perry is the groom's sister.

The bride, a graduate of Salem High School, is employed at the Salem Brosius Co. as a variety operator. Mr. Rogers, an army veteran, is a graduate of the West Virginia University, and he is a state patrolman at the Salem Barracks.

For traveling the bride wore a navy blue suit with cape, white accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Dance Recital Held In School Auditorium

A crowd of about 700 people attended the dance recital of pupils of Bettie Lee Lewis Thursday evening in the Salem High School auditorium.

Highlights of the program were the two solo numbers of Miss Dana Rice, daughter of D. E. Rice of E. Fifth St., who has been assisting Bettie Lee as an instructor and has been dancing for the past ten years. Her two solos were "Two Little Black Ballet Slippers" and "Parker Avenue Fantasy."

Tiny Stephanie Rae Lewis, 4, daughter of Bettie Lee, and Dash Lippert, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Lippert of Jones Dr., danced to "Waltz of Love."

Glenn Jackson of Leetonia played and Mrs. Steve Odoran was at the piano.

A recital will be held in the Lisbon High School auditorium Tuesday at 8:15 p.m.

Mrs. Carl Mattix and daughter, Jeannene of Cleveland St. and Mrs. Grover Scullion of E. State St. spent Thursday in Pittsburgh.

Why Does Steel Strike Go On Despite Best Wage Offer In Industry's History?

Companies believe real reason is Union demand for compulsory Union Membership

A few days ago in Washington steel companies made a new wage offer to the Union in an effort to get a prompt settlement of the steel strike.

This offer includes higher wages and other benefits adding up to the biggest increase in the history of the steel industry.

It places the pay of steelworkers far above the average of all manufacturing industries.

It includes an average wage increase of 16 cents per hour plus substantial increases in fringe benefits, making a total direct cost to the companies of approximately 25 cents an hour. That would be about $500 yearly per employee based on the average hours worked in 1951.

Workers lose $10 millions daily

Every full working day that this strike continues means the loss of approximately $10,000,000 in wages to some 600,000 steelworkers and their families.

It means the daily loss of about 260,000 tons of steel production.

Why does the strike continue? Why do union leaders refuse the offer which would mean substantial increases in take home pay for steelworkers?

The companies believe the reason for this refusal is the Union's demand for compulsory Union membership.

Granting this demand would force every future applicant for employment in the steel mills to join the Union as a condition of holding his job.

The steel companies have refused to grant this demand. They will not be a party to coercing any individual, who, for reasons of his own, does not want to join the Union.

Opposition of the companies to the Union Shop cannot be construed as opposition to the Union itself.

Since 1942 the labor agreements with the steel companies have contained provisions that gave the Union stability and security.

Free choice is basic

The companies believe it is up to each man to decide for himself whether he will or will not join any organization.

If the companies signed a contract forcing all future applicants for employment to join the Union, then we as an industry - and we as a nation - would be surrendering one more right of the individual, one more freedom.

In a world of encroaching dictatorship we are trying to preserve freedom in Europe, freedom in Korea, and freedom at home. The freedom of choice, no less than the freedom of speech and of the press, is important to the life of every American.

Steel Companies' Offer to Union

June 9, 1952

1. General increase in wage rates averaging 16 cents an hour.
2. Six paid holidays, double time for holidays worked, with appropriate provisions as to eligibility.
3. Increase shift differentials to 6 cents per hour for second shift and 9 cents per hour for third shift.
4. Three weeks vacation after 15 years of service, effective January 1, 1952.
5. Decrease Southern differential of the two companies concerned by 5 cents an hour.
6. Above adjustments to be effective upon execution of complete agreement and return to work, except that general increase in wage rates to be retroactive to April 1, 1952.
7. Agreement to run to June 30, 1954, reopenable by either party as of June 30, 1953, on the subject of general adjustment of wage rates.
8. Union security provisions of present agreements which provide for freedom of choice of individual employees to join or refrain from joining the Union will not be changed.
9. All other matters must be satisfactorily resolved.

Indians Break Six-Game Losing Streak, Down Boston, 9-2

White Sox Whip New York, 8-5

Chisox In Thick Of Pennant Race

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox of 1952 don't get around the bases as fast as the 1952 go-go model, but Manager Paul Richards' current crew makes up for its lesser speed with more punch.

Swiftfooted was the chief stock in trade of the 1951 team that skyrocketed to the top and held sway until it ran out of gas in July.

Richards swapped some of his swifties for more power during the off season. The Sox got off to a poor start but they caught fire recently and are right in the thick of the pennant race today.

The socking Sox staged a stirring rally last night to beat the pace-setting New York Yankees, 8-5, and pull to within three games of the defending world champions.

Chicago rallied for four runs in the ninth inning to tie the score at 5-5 and then won on the 11th when Sam Mele crashed a three-run homer off Bobby Hogue. Mele was one of the sluggers imported by Richards. The Sox skipper gave up speed boy Jim Busby to Washington to obtain slugging Sam.

The Yanks appeared a cinch to score their eighth victory without a loss over Chicago as big Vic Raschi entered the ninth with a six hit. But the Sox scored a run and loaded the bases with one out to chase Raschi. Joe Ostrowski took over and Nelson Fox greeted him with a single to make it 5-3 in favor of New York. Hogue relieved Ostrowski and Minnie Mi-noso promptly singled to tie the score. Robinson ended the rally by banging into a double play.

Fox opened the 11th with a double. Mi-noso was deliberately walked but the move backfired as Mele followed with a home run into the left field stands. The triumph was Chicago's 11th in their last 14 starts.

The victory moved Chicago to within a half game of the second place Boston Red Sox who were trounced, 9-2, by the fourth place Cleveland Indians. The Indians are a half game behind Chicago and 3½ back of the Yanks.

Bob Lemon, supported by a 14-hit barrage, breezed to his sixth victory for Cleveland. Lemon allowed the Red Sox five hits. Lemon, Larry Doby and Jim Fridley paced Cleveland's attack against Mel Parnell and two relief pitchers with home runs.

In other American League games, the Philadelphia Athletics stopped the Detroit Tigers, 3-1, and the Washington Senators and St. Louis Browns battled to a 5-5, 18-inning tie under the lights at St. Louis.

Old Satchel Paige starred in the marathon at St. Louis, longest game of the season so far. Paige took over in the eighth and pitched five-hit scoreless ball for 10 innings. He went out for a pinch-hitter in the 17th and Dave Madison finished up.

The Browns and Senators also were involved in the previous longest game, a 17-inning affair in Washington on June 3 which the Browns won, 3-2, on a single by Paige.

Meanwhile, in the National

Leetonia, CIO Score Class A Games Over Sears, Salem Tool

Leetonia and CIO tallied Class A softball victories last night at Kelley Field when they downed Salem Tool and Sears, respectively, in tight games.

The other scheduled game of the evening went to Strouss as the Electric Furnace forfeited.

With Bill Sheen pitching seven-hit ball for the CIO, Sears dropped a 4-1 decision. The game was tight most of the way with both teams scoring a marker in the initial frame.

George Ehrhart led off for Sears, advanced on a ground out and scored when Clarence Walker doubled for the Sears tally. CIO scored in the bottom as John Volio gained first on an error and tallied on Joe Keister's triple.

Sears was held scoreless the remainder of the contest but CIO came up with a pair of markers in the fifth inning on a walk and two singles. They also added another run in the seventh inning for security.

Keister was the big gun for the winners as he rapped out two of five CIO hits allowed by Sears' pitcher, Don Fife. Walker also garnered two for the losers.

SALEM TOOL LED, 4-3, going into the seventh inning but Leetonia came through with three runs to make the score, 6-4, when the frame ended. The Toolers tied the game in the bottom of the seventh but the game went into the tenth inning when the Leetonia finally clinched it with three runs to win, 9-7.

The tenth inning Leetonia rally saw Tool Pitcher Leo Kline fill the bases with walks before Mike Gallo banged a double between second and short to drive in three runs. The Toolers tried to even the game in the bottom of the 11th but Jack Altomare forced

Sanitary, Mullins Capture Victories

Six hits, five walks and a hit batsman allowed Mullins of the Little League to garner 11 runs in the initial inning and remain atop the loop with 3 victories.

The Manufacturers also tallied four runs in the third frame and another in the fourth to dump Fisher's News Agency, 16-2, in a game played at Centennial Park last night.

Meanwhile, Sanitary edged Sekely in the other Little League tilt as Pitcher Stewart of Sanitary League, the Brooklyn Dodgers clung to their five game lead over the New York Giants. The Dodgers edged the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4, on pinch-hitter George Shuba's two-run, two-out homer in the ninth while the Giants shaded the slumping Chicago Cubs, 4-3, in 10 innings under the lights.

The Pirates, seeking their first victory in nine starts over the Dodgers, staked Howie Pollet to a 4-1 lead but the southpaw blew up in the eighth and yielded two runs. Ted Wilks relieved and was tagged for Shuba's winning clout.

The blow was the first of the season for the reserve outfielder. Ralph Kiner clouted his 12th homer for the Pirates in the fifth.

Whitey Lockman doubled home relief pitcher Max Lanier with one out in the 10th to beat the Cubs. The loss was Chicago's sixth straight. Big Paul Minner went all the way for Chicago.

The Boston Braves swamped the St. Louis Cardinals, 12-7, and the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Cincinnati Reds, 3-1, in other National League games.

Lemon Captures Sixth Victory

Fridley, Lemon, Doby Clout Home Runs

CLEVELAND (AP)—Whatever ails the Indians, the Boston Red Sox seem able to provide at least a temporary cure.

The Sox have won only one out of every four games they've played in the big league bowl since the start of the 1949 season.

Friday night, the Beantowners went down 9-2 to end the Indians' six-game losing string — their longest of the season.

The Tribe got good pitching from Bob Lemon and cut loose with a 14-hit attack that included three homers. Aside from two infield errors, the Tribe didn't look at all like a club that had been trying for a full week to win a ball game.

Lemon, who said afterward that his curve was working "real good," gave the Red Sox only one hit in the first six innings — a roller Dom DiMaggio hit down the third-base line and beat out to lead off the first inning. Lemon's only walk also came in the first inning, but a double play scotched the visitors' scoring chances.

Cleveland had four runs before any of the homers. Lemon's first round tripper of the season came in the sixth with none on. Rookie Jim Fridley clubbed one in the seventh after Al Rosen had singled.

And in the eighth Larry Doby homered after Lemon had singled and been forced by Barney McCosky.

The victory was Lemon's sixth against seven defeats and his 10th over Boston against three losses since the start of the 1950 season.

Rain came down off and on throughout the game, pelting a crowd of 28,949. Otherwise, things went to the fans' liking right from the start.

Indians Sign Shortstop; Rated With Boudreau

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 17-year-old shortstop, Billy Morgan of Russell High School in East Point, Ga., has been signed as a bonus player by the Cleveland Indians. There were reports the amount was $40,000.

Cy Slapnicka, who discovered Bob Feller and scouted Bob Avila, described young Morgan as "the best shortstop prospect since Lou Boudreau joined Cleveland."

Poland Here For Sunday Polo Game

The leaders of the Penn-Ohio League, Poland, will invade Salem Sunday afternoon for a 3 p.m. contest with the locals on the Ellsworth Road field.

With the newly acquired horses and the addition of Roy Bates to the Salem combine, the local outfit expects to give the younger Poland riders a battle Sunday.

The visitors have played all the Penn-Ohio teams except Columbus Farms, whom the locals held to a 6-6 tie last weekend. The Poland outfit has lost but one game this season.

Captained by their leader, Bud Strouss, the Poland team will also side Stan Strouss, Bud Kimmell, Phil Thompson and Bunny Smolovich against Salem's Willy Smith, Jim Pidgeon, Tony Sheen, Roy Fryan, Max Nemic and Bates.

Fryan is back in the saddle after he suffered a broken nose and face injuries last week when a horse caught him in the face while he was loading his truck following the game.

Fans are reminded of the free horse rides for the children during the polo game. Sunday's contest will be the last home game for the locals for two weeks.

Many Unknowns Remain In PGA

Worsham Eliminates Snead, Then Beaten

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—There were a few familiar names still in the PGA battle today as 16 survivors of Friday's slaughter of favorites settled down to the decisive 36-hole matches in the pros' private golfing party.

There were Cary Middlecoff, a new member of the lodge; Vic Ghezzi and Bob Hamilton, both former PGA champions; and such well known journeymen golfers as Jim Turnesa, Roberto de Vicenzo, Fred Haas Jr. and Chick Harbert.

But, as you looked over the rest of the list, one by one, the big question arose: Who the heck is he?

One after another, the golfers have been drawing the headlines during the preliminary stages vanished from the scene yesterday when the match play started with Friday's two 18-hole rounds.

Calling the roll, Sam Snead, the defending champion shooting for his fourth PGA title, Lawson Little, medalist, Dutch Harrison, two-time PGA winner Denny Shute, Harry Todd, Johnny Palmer, Claude Harmon and PGA President Horton Smith all went down.

Low Worsham, who beat Snead in the famous playoff for the 1947 open championship, did the trick again on the 19th hole.

Worsham was one of the first to go down in the second round which also saw the elimination of former PGA Champions Jim Ferrier and Chandler Harper, Lloyd Mangrum, ex-open champion, Jack Burke, Marty Furgol and Dave Douglas.

Haas who hasn't been doing too well along the tournament trail lately, knocked out Worsham on the 18th hole.

Harbert stamped himself as a red hot contender yesterday when he was 10 under par in his two matches.

Par at the big spring course is 36-36-72.

Two others who have finished second in the PGA are among the "unknown" club pros still in the field. Broad-shouldered Walter Burkemo of Detroit, who lost to Snead last year, won two matches by one hole margins, eliminating Douglas in the second round. Big, placid Henry Williams Jr., of Kutztown, Pa., was runner-up to Harbert in 1950.

The "most unknown" prize probably goes to Ray Honsberger of Clarkston, Wash., a big 43-year-old man with graying hair who beat Ferrier in the second round. He never played in a PGA championship before and was well down the list of alternates in his district this year. But he made the trip when others from the Northwest didn't.

Roving Reports By HAL BOYLE

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—You've heard all the stories about Pat and Mike. Well, this one's about Pat and Ike. They look alike.

His strong facial resemblance to Gen. "Ike" Eisenhower has been one long comedy of errors to Relman (Pat) Morin, Pulitzer prize-winning reporter for The Associated Press.

It began nine years ago when Pat was first mistaken for Ike. And it has gone on intermittently ever since, as Pat has spent a good part of those years reporting the varied activities of Ike in war and peace.

"I don't see the resemblance myself," said Pat, "but other people do."

The other people include Pat's own wife.

"If they are not mistaking Pat for Ike when they are apart, they mistake Pat for Ike's younger brother when the two are at the same event. Pat is tall, balding and 44. Ike is tall, balding and 62.

The first instance of this "look-alike" trouble cost Pat the annoyance of a king.

"It happened in a French village outside Bizerte during the tour of the North African battlefield made by the late King George VI in 1943," Pat recalled.

"I was among a group of eight or 10 reporters assigned to travel in his motorcade. Several of us were in the motor car immediately behind the King's.

"While King George was being greeted by the village officials, a Frenchman in the crowd looked in our car, spotted me, and cried: 'Look, there's Gen. Eisenhower, too.'"

"Part of the crowd began surging excitedly around us. All I could do was scrunched down in the car, trying to look as small as possible. I kept saying in French, 'No, no, you are mistaken.'"

The king, who was a grand guy, naturally was annoyed at the disturbance. He thought some of us were clowning around during the welcoming ceremony. He spun around and we got the full blast of a royal frown.

"Later his aides put him straight."

But minor versions of the same thing have been going on ever since.

"What gets me is that people who mistake me for Ike get mad at me when they discover I am not their hero," Pat said.

Last winter, for example, while Ike was still in Europe and before he had indicated he was politically available, a man edged up to Pat at a Manhattan cocktail party.

"I didn't know you were home yet, general," he whispered.

When Pat told him he was mistaken, the man assumed a share-the-secret expression and whispered again:

"Well, naturally I suppose you want to keep it as quiet as possible, and you can count on me."

Pat has covered some of Eisenhower's recent campaigning, and has had to spend considerable time

NEW YORK (AP)—The Bob Hope-Bing Crosby marathon, scheduled for two TV networks late tonight and Sunday, is to run 14½ hours from Hollywood. It being Bing's video debut, his network, CBS-TV, is joining NBC-TV in the relay.

Like Hope, Crosby, who has shied away from the cameras heretofore, is making the appearance as co-MC without fee. The telecast opens at 1 tonight and continues through 1:30 p.m. EDT, Sunday, the aim being to raise funds for the U. S. Olympic Committee to send teams to the 1952 games in Helsinki. All sorts of Hollywood stars and Olympic athletes are to participate.

This is being hailed as a super production, even more so than the 21½-hour Milton Berle marathon out of New York a couple weeks ago. The same telephone technique will be used.

CIO Workers To Run Steel Warehouses

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Production Authority announced Friday CIO Steelworkers will man 132 steel company warehouses and plants to handle steel products needed for the defense program.

Agreements were completed after talks by John R. Steelman, acting director of defense, with company representatives and the steelworkers union.

Only finished steel products needed by the Army, Navy, Air Force, the Atomic Energy Commission, the government's tool program, and similar programs will be handled to fill those orders on hand at the beginning of the current steel strike.

Ohio warehouses and plants affected include:

Brainard Steel Co. and Copperweld Steel Co., Warren.
National Tube Division — Lorain.

Republic Steel Co., Canton and Massillon.
Union Drawn Steel Division — Massillon.

Steel & Tubes Division — Elyria.
Wheeling Steel Co., Steubenville and Yorkville.
Babcock & Wilcox, Alliance.

Obituary

Fred D. Fritch

COLUMBIANA—Fred D. Fritch, 35, of 52 Cross St., died at 3:25 p.m. Friday at the Salem City Hospital after a year's illness.

The son of Fred and Bertha Overlow Fritch, he was born April 7, 1917, in Akron. He married the former Nancy Mae Stokes in 1939.

He joined the National Rubber Machine Co., of Akron in 1939 and was employed in the purchasing department. Following a short term in the Air Force as a corporal at Chanute Field, Ill., in charge of weather observation, he was manager of materials and production control in the Columbian division of the company where he was employed at the time of his death.

He is also a member of the Presbyterian Church in Columbian, Knights of Pythias Lodge and Benjamin Firestone American Legion Post 290, of which he served as commander in 1949-50. He was also county Legion second vice president and service officer of the local post.

He had lived in Columbian for nine years, coming from Akron.

Surviving are his wife; a son, Roger A., at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Fritch of Akron; and an uncle, Judge E. D. Fritch of Akron.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p.m. Monday at the Presbyterian Church where the body will lie in state from 1:30 p.m. to the time for the service. Rev. Harry Scheidmante of the Presbyterian Church will officiate. Burial will be in Columbian cemetery.

Friends may call at the Seelye funeral home Sunday afternoon from 2 until 4 p.m. and Sunday evening.

Mrs. Conn Funeral

LISBON—Funeral services for Mrs. Adella R. Conn, 63, who died Thursday morning in the Salem Clinic, will be held Monday afternoon at 2 in the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home by Rev. C. W. Houston of the Lisbon Christian Church. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call Sunday at the funeral home.

Tom Stan

Tom Stan, 62, of 177 W. Wilson St. died at 9:50 p.m. Friday at the Tuscarawas Sanitarium near New Philadelphia following an illness of several years.

The son of John and Helen Stan, he was born in Romania April 11, 1890. A resident of Salem for the past 30 years, he was employed as a grinder at the National Sanitary. He was a member of the Romanian Orthodox Church and Romanian Society.

Surviving are his wife, Mary, and a sister in Romania.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Romanian Orthodox Church.

Friends may call Monday evening at the Stark Memorial.

PEDESTRIAN KILLED

Politics

Eisenhower's Texas followers are really Democrats in disguise. The issues—whether a pro-Taft or a pro-Eisenhower delegation should be seated—is docketed for settlement by the Republican National Committee.

Vote-hunting forays were the order of the day for the three front-running candidates for Democratic nomination. The Associated Press scoreboard, with 616 delegate votes needed at the July 21 Chicago convention, lists Tennessee Sen. Estes Kefauver in first place with 246.

Next came Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia with 114½ and mutual service administrator Averell Harriman with 95½.

Kefauver was in Chicago today, meeting with his Midwestern backers. Sunday he makes what his camp called a "major speech" at a $25-a-plate dinner there. At Rock Island, Ill., Friday night he told interviewers he felt a Pentagon spending cut of four or five billion dollars annually would not hurt military firepower.

Harriman, bidding for Midwestern support, addresses Nebraska Democrats at a Jefferson-Jackson dinner at Omaha tonight. In Des Moines Friday, Harriman said he can provide a new crusading spirit he believes America now needs.

Meanwhile, Gov. John Fine saw little hope of achieving any harmony in his 70-vote Pennsylvania GOP delegation — wooed by Taft and Eisenhower forces as a key-stone bloc that could determine a close nomination race. Fine controls at least 32 of the state's votes and is not expected to announce his choice until the convention gets underway.

The son of John and Helen Stan, he was born in Romania April 11, 1890. A resident of Salem for the past 30 years, he was employed as a grinder at the National Sanitary. He was a member of the Romanian Orthodox Church and Romanian Society.

Surviving are his wife, Mary, and a sister in Romania.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Romanian Orthodox Church.

Friends may call Monday evening at the Stark Memorial.

$41,000 Fire Levels

Chanticleer Restaurant

ALLIANCE, O. — An assistant state fire marshal is investigating an early morning blaze that destroyed the Chanticleer Restaurant west of here in Stark County on Route 62, with a loss of $41,000.

The fire was noticed by a motorist. Marlboro Township volunteers and the Alliance department fought the blaze several hours.

Leo Syrack and his wife, proprietors, who lived in the building, said they closed the restaurant about midnight.

THIS ONE GOT AWAY

The fish didn't. But he did... for the two weeks that he spent fifty weeks planning for. With his pet fishin' clothes, his favorite stream, you can be sure he's having a wonderful time.

Everybody who works for a living likes to get away for a while, but it takes money. This is easy for those who save a little each pay day for their annual vacation.

Why not open your vacation account today? You too, can come home with all bills paid and possibly a surplus for your next trip.
